June 2024

Hello everyone! June is here and we've got an action-packed month ahead! There are tons of activities lined up and plenty of chances for you to get involved and see what we've been working on. We're excited to share all the latest updates, upcoming events, and behind-the-scenes moments from May. Here's what's happening!

May Highlights

May has been an incredibly productive month at Unbound Dance Theatre, with our focus mainly on creating our upcoming premiere of "Fireflies at Dawn." Our dancers, choreographer and creative team have come together to craft a show that promises to be a sensory experience, sensitively revealing the living experiences of blind and visually impaired people.

We were generously hosted by our partner organisations, Yorkshire Dance in Leeds and CAPA College in Wakefield. This period has been intensely creative, with everyone working tirelessly to ensure we deliver the best possible performance. Alongside our hard work, we've continued our research and exploration to develop practices that ensure our work is accessible and inclusive for everyone on our team.

In addition to refining our internal practices, we've been dedicated to enhancing accessibility and inclusivity for our audiences. We were thrilled to have Vicky Ackroyd, our Audio Description Consultant, join us back in the studio to help achieve this goal.

May has been a month of growth, learning, and creativity, and we can't wait to share the results with you!

Next month...

June is shaping up to be an incredibly exciting month for our company as we bring to the stage a show that has been in development for over two years. It's been two incredible years of research, exchange and discovery working closely with the blind and visually impaired community.

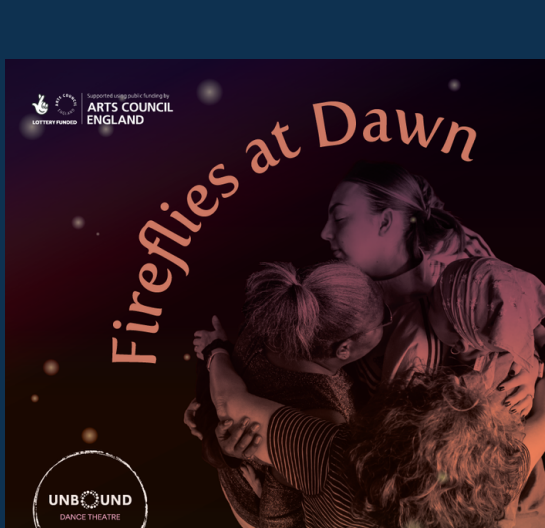

Save the date for June 11th when we open at the Alhambra Studio in Bradford with Fireflies at Dawn. Can't make it? Our next stops will be in Leeds on June 29th and Wakefield on July 10th. We can't wait to share this emotional journey with you and be sure to stick around after the show for a Q&A session with the performers and creators.

"Fireflies at Dawn" invites you to step into the depths of darkness where every step becomes a dance of connection. This dance theatre piece weaves together inclusivity and self-expression, exploring the richness of our shared humanity and the strength found in our search for connection. Witness the power of vulnerability in this sensory show, co-created and performed by visually impaired and sighted dancers.

Before our premiere, we're excited to host a workshop for dance students and professionals interested in inclusive practices. Spend an afternoon with us diving deep into our creative process and discovering how we work.

Throughout the month, we'll also continue our engagement with the blind and visually impaired community by delivering inclusive dance workshops in Leeds, Harrogate, and Bradford.

We're beyond excited for what June has in store and can't wait to share these experiences with you. Whether you're joining us for the performances of "Fireflies at Dawn," participating in our workshops or simply following along with our journey, we're grateful for your support and passion. Together, let's continue to celebrate the beauty of dance and the power of inclusivity. See you in June!
